

Anti-Spam Policy

Electro Plastics, Inc. strictly enforces and requires that all users of this website comply with this Anti-Spam Policy. If you know of or suspect any violators, please notify us immediately at info@electroplastics.com.

What is spam?

"Spam" is unsolicited email messages including commercial email, bulk email and junk email sent to individuals who have not given their consent to receive such messages, who have not requested information contained in such messages and who have no prior professional or personal relationship with the sender.

What happens to people who send spam messages about Electro Plastics, Inc. (or its products, domains)?

If notified, Electro Plastics, Inc. will investigate the messages. Electro Plastics, Inc. reserves the right to warn, suspend or terminate a Member account which it determines, in its sole discretion, is transmitting or is otherwise connected with Spam.

Isn't there a law restricting Spam?

Yes, but state spam statutes vary so it is important to conform to the strictest standards. Many states have spam statutes, and they all differ; each state has its own definition of unsolicited commercial email. Additionally, there are various federal agencies keeping track of spam including the Federal Trade Commission.
